The Tariff Plank.
 "We denounce the McKinley tariff law enacted by the Fifty-first Congress as the culminating atrocity of class legislation; we denounce Republican protection as a fraud, a robbery of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of the few. We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to enforce and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only, and demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the government, honestly and economically administered."

FORCED TO ENLARGE.
 The constant increase in the advertising patronage of the KENTUCKIAN has made an enlargement of the paper necessary. During the present year we have carried from 18 to 24 columns of advertisements, even through the dull seasons, after excluding all except the more desirable classes of foreign advertisements. With only 32 columns, this has deprived the subscribers of their fair share of space. To accommodate the advertisers, and make room for new ones who have contracted for space and at the same time leave space for enough reading matter to keep up the reputation the KENTUCKIAN has been making for fourteen years, we will, with the next issue, increase the paper to a nine-column sheet. There will be no change in the subscription price of the paper and no advance in the present advertising rates, further than is made necessary by the increased length of the columns. The KENTUCKIAN is already the largest semi-weekly in the State and this change will make it equal in size to the largest weeklies. Perhaps the KENTUCKIAN owes an explanation for not starting a daily paper. Three-fourths of its subscribers are in the country and do not want a daily paper and of the other fourth many of them take daily papers that reach the city before a local paper could possibly be issued. This of course makes a small daily valueless as a news medium. On the other hand the merchants prefer to advertise in a paper with a large circulation out of town as well as in it, and their experience has convinced them that the KENTUCKIAN possesses advantages as an advertising medium that no other paper in this part of Kentucky can justly claim. This will explain why some of the best advertisers in the city do their advertising almost exclusively in our columns. It also explains why some advertisers have held the same position, without interruption, for ten years. Each subscriber receives every issue of the paper and advertisers are not forced to patronize different papers to reach both the city and country people. These and other reasons have influenced us and for the present at least we will adhere to the semi-weekly issue in its enlarged form. The change gives us 136 inches more space, or about 5 1/2 columns. This is expected to relieve the congested condition of the paper for a while. What the change will force us to do, time only will tell.

THE STEVENSON RALLY.

Preparations for a Great Time at Herndon.

Special Rates by the R.R. roads.

The Herndon barbecue will undoubtedly draw a great crowd to that village next Friday. Excursion rates have been announced by both roads and the O. V. will run a number of special trains.

The Herndon committee had representatives in the city Saturday and expressed their confidence in their ability to redeem Mr. McKenzies promise to "feed 20,000 people." The city people are responding even more liberally than those in the country, with cash donations.

Gen. Stevenson will reach the city at 5 a. m. and the Herndon people want to take him in a hack directly to Herndon to breakfast, but as he will have to travel all night to get here he will probably prefer to rest awhile and take the 9:30 special by the O. V. road. If the city Democrats are allowed to have any voice in arranging the program this course will be adopted.

The Committee on Arrangements have made no announcement as to speakers. Of a number of distinguished gentlemen invited to be present by the Chairman of the County Committee, Mr. Cleveland, Gov. Brown and Senator Carlisle have sent letters of regret. Mr. Watterson, Gen. Palmer, Senator Blackburn and Senator Mills have not been heard from yet. Capt. Ellis will be present and will probably speak at some time during the day. The plan is to have an early dinner and let Gen. Stevenson speak at 1 o'clock p. m., his speech of course to be the event of the day. He will be introduced in a five minutes' speech by Mr. W. R. Howell, the eloquent young attorney of this city.

Among the other speakers invited are Mr. Watterson, Hon. Jno. F. House, Hon. Jno. S. Rhea, and Col. Ewing of Illinois.

The grove where the barbecue will be held is directly on the Clarksville & Graceland railroad, in a few yards of where Gen. Stevenson was born.

It may not be amiss to state here that the barbecue will be under the supervision of Mr. S. R. White, who knows more about barbecuing meats than any other man in the county.

Mr. J. R. Caudle will be general director and manager of the grounds. Esq. J. T. Coleman will probably be master of ceremonies, assisted by Messrs. Jas. E. Stevenson and Thos. L. Moss.

Excursion Rates.

The Ohio Valley Railroad Co. will run a special train from this place, from Henderson and also Paducah, to Herndon and return Friday, Sept. 2, on account of the grand reception and barbecue to be tendered Gen. Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for Vice-President. Round trip from this city 80 cents. Train will leave here at 9:30 a. m. arriving at Herndon at 10:20 a. m. Returning, special train for this city, Henderson, Paducah and all intermediate stations will leave Herndon at 5 o'clock p. m. same day. This is the first low rate excursion over the new extension of the O. V., and offers an opportunity to view the country through which the road passes.

DON'T TAKE POISON!

Cheap whiskies are a mild form of poison. Consumers are warned against their use.

Kendall and Dickerson are the only Kentucky Democratic Congressmen who have not been re-nominated. The former is not a candidate.

Mr. W. W. Blackwell, of Henderson, Ky., is now Supreme Chancellor of the order of Knights of Pythias, the highest position the order can confer.

The publication of the fact that the keeper of the Cincinnati Zoological Garden narrowly escaped being gored to death by a snake, was probably an advertising dodge to increase the female attendance.

The Owensboro Inquirer in copying a paragraph from this paper makes us commit the same blunder the Owensboro Journal made and refer to a "Titan" as a "Titan." The Inquirer's proof reader must himself be a "tight'un."

Deafness Can't Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. Sold by druggists 75c. F. J. CHEENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

TOM THE FLOPPER.

Capt. Ellis Gives Him a Dressing Down in Me Lean.

The district campaign was formally opened at Elba, McLean county, Saturday by Messrs. Ellis and Pettit. There were about 1500 people present. The Owensboro Messenger gives this account of the debate:

By agreement Pettit opened the debate in a speech of one hour, Ellis followed in an hour and a quarter and Pettit closed in fifteen minutes.

Pettit opened by making a defense of his record in the Legislature and his speech was in a large measure a rehearsal of his old speech made last year and year before last, when a candidate for Representative and for membership to the constitutional convention. The burden of his talk was that he made the constitution and that to perpetuate the instrument he ought to be kept in office. He devoted a good deal of his time to lauding Weaver, the Third Party candidate for President. He criticized the Democrats for not passing the free silver bill and promised if elected that he would pass a silver bill and several other bills to ameliorate the condition of the people, and concluded by exhorting the people to leave the old parties and unite with the Third Party.

Mr. Ellis opened his remarks by saying that Mr. Pettit was endeavoring to avoid the issues of this canvass, that he did not propose to be thrown off by a discussion of the acts of the Kentucky Legislature that had been in session for eight months and had accomplished nothing or very little, and what little had been done had been done over again. Governor Brown, he said, had called the Legislature to meet, and Mr. Pettit, the Third Party candidate, was drawing his pay and running over the district asking for another office. He said the issue of the campaign were the robber tariff and the iniquitous and damnable force bill, which threaten the liberties and prosperity of the people of the whole country.

In reply to Mr. Pettit's tirade against corporations he said Mr. Pettit had always been the friend of corporations, so much so that he transacted all his business by corporation charters, that he was a member of the Owensboro Milling Company, Owensboro Lumber Company and numerous other private corporations. In reply to Pettit's abuse of Democratic politicians he said Mr. Pettit for twenty-five years was the leader of a ring and called on the people to remember his record in county, district and State conventions.

He then made a close logical, analytical argument on the tariff, and showed by facts bristling with figures that could not be controverted that the McKinley bill made the rich richer and the poor poorer. He showed that the tax on woolen goods was from 30 to 254 per cent; on iron from 54 to 127 per cent.

He challenged the opposition to show where he had ever cast a vote against the interests of the toiling masses, but on the contrary his vote was always recorded with the Democratic party, the friend of the people, and he had striven through his service as a member of Congress for two terms to aid the poor and the distressed. He referred to his vote in favor of free silver to increase the circulating medium. He then showed that Mr. Pettit was in favor of class legislation by reading the substitute that Mr. Pettit had offered for the separate coach bill, saying that the rich could ride in a separate coach and the negroes and poor white people would have to occupy the same car. Mr. Ellis was exceedingly happy in his denunciation of Pettit on the separate coach bill and was loudly applauded.

Mr. Ellis next referred to the Force bill as one of the living issues of the present campaign and said the Democratic party was opposed to the bayonet at the polls, that the Democratic party was for local self-government. That the State of Kentucky could select her officers to manage her elections without Federal interference and said we wanted no soldiers in blue clothing with glittering bayonets and glittering swords around our elections, threatening the liberty of the citizen.

In conclusion he said the sub-treasury plan and the scheme to buy railroads and telegraphs, was an idle dream of broken down old political hacks who had been knocked out of the Democratic and Republican parties for treachery and desertion. Mr. Ellis then exhorted the Democrats to do their whole duty and vote the full ticket beginning with Cleveland.

At the conclusion of Capt. Ellis' speech he was presented with a floral offering by Miss Pearl Dauley, on behalf of the ladies present.

Mr. Pettit responded as best he could in the fifteen minutes allowed him.

The McLean Democrats expect to carry the county by 400 majority.

Cholera of a most malignant type is now raging in many parts of Europe. The number of deaths at some places is appalling. This country is thoroughly aroused to the danger and the national and state authorities are taking all the precautions possible to prevent its advent. Three steamships from the infected ports arrived Saturday at New York. All the passengers were inspected and their baggage disinfected, no cases of sickness being found. Another death occurred at Gravesend, and two emigrants bound for America were taken down with the dread disease at Glasgow, Scotland.

A LOST CHILD.

Shocks A Letter-Carrier With Her Supposed Profanity.

Mr. Henry Rauch is probably one of the most popular letter-carriers on the Covington force. His popularity is well deserved, and has been gained by close application to duty, with polite and considerate attention to the people whom he serves, and whose interests he naturally makes his own. This morning on his second round he had an experience out of the every day order. While passing along Sixth street he met a little girl crying bitterly, who apparently had wandered from home and was lost. Henry thought he recognized the child as belonging to one of his patrons, and approaching her said:

"Don't cry, don't cry, little girl. Tell me your name and I will take you home."

The child choked back her tears a little and sobbing said her name was Helen French.

The answer was given through such a series of sobs that Henry thought she said "H—I in French." He was horrified, but again begged the child to tell him her name, and the little one, still crying repeated it, her words sounding exactly as they did before. "Well, well," exclaimed Henry, a little impatiently, "never mind what your name is in French. I don't understand French. Just tell me your name in English, and I will take you home."

After a little soothing the little one was able to make it known that she was Helen, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. Thomas French, of Greenup street, and the carrier, greatly relieved at discovering his mistake, carefully conducted her to her home.

CITY COURT NEWS.

Wallace Pollard, col., b. of p., fined $1 and costs.

Tom Drenton, drunk, fined $5 and costs.

Lee Long, col., visiting bawdy house and gaming, 20 days in the work house.

Jane Skinner, col., keeping disorderly house, twenty-five days in the work house.

Lena Skinner, col., same, same.

Charles Fox, col., grand larceny, bound over until Circuit Court.

Same, c. e. d. w., fined $25 and costs, and ten days in jail.

John Peak, col., b. of p., gaming and disorderly conduct, 20 days in the work house.

Willie Harris, c. e. d. w., 35 days in the work house.

Mosco McCullch, col., gaming, fined $20 and costs.

Henry Orndoff, col., same, same.

The General Assembly reassembled Thursday with a good attendance in both houses. Nothing was done up to Saturday. The indications are that the Governor's veto of the Revenue bill will be sustained by the House if not by the Senate. An "address" signed by ten Representatives and nine Senators was promulgated Saturday, criticizing the Governor's vetoes. As Tom Pettit is not on hand to waste time, the Legislature may be able to do something this week.

Ex-President Deodora da Fonseca, a Brazilian statesman who parted his whiskers, is dead. Gen. Fonseca de-throned Dom Pedro and shipped him to Europe. He was then chosen President and his next exploit was to attempt to make himself dictator. Failing in this he retired to private life.

A New Business College.

The many friends and former patrons of Prof. Enos Spencer, for several years Secretary & Treasurer of the B. & S. College of Louisville, will be pleased to know that he is now at the head of a strong corporation which has opened in the Louisville Board of Trade Building a strictly modern and practical Business College, under the well known and popular name of "Spencerian." They are at the business center, connected with all the leading business interests of the country, and Prof. Spencer's reputation as a practical Business Educator is all that is necessary to guarantee the success of the college. We bespeak for them a good patronage from the young men and women of this vicinity who desire that quality of practical instruction, which will prepare them for good employment and success in life. See advertisement.
